Speaker programme outline

The conference sessions on 8th and 9th June will feature presentations by some of the leading authorities on the industry. The programme will cover important topics such as Responsible Tin Supply, Future Tin Demand and Tin Recycling. The conference will also include comprehensive analyses of trends in tin production, investment and applications.

In the Responsible Tin Supply session critical issues shaping the future of responsible sourcing will be discussed:

- In what way will the new EU and LME requirements on ‘responsible sourcing’ impact global supply and trade?
- How is the industry working to ensure responsible supply of tin?
- Can industry self-regulation be an effective response to tin sourcing concerns?

The session will see experts across the tin value chain sharing the latest reporting and communications strategies that are shaping the future of responsible business in the tin industry.

Keynote and other presentations will also explore such topics as:

- Which regions are the most prospective for future tin supply?
- Will tin recycling become more prominent as consumers pressure industry to reduce their environmental impact?
- How is tin set to gain from the upcoming technology revolution?

Full details, including a conference programme, will be made available in due course through the event website.
